SHELTON SINGERS' WINTER CONCERT

The Shelton Singers will present their winter concert on Monday, February 25, at 12:30 p.m. in the music room of the Junior College Division. The choir will sing madrigals and voice selections from CAROUSEL. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Emmett Dendy and Vicki Ingram is the accompanist. Students, faculty, and friends are invited to attend.

ZOELLNER EXHIBITS AT SHELTON

A collection of drawings, paintings and etchings by Richard C. Zoellner are presently on exhibit at the Junior College Division library and may be viewed by the public, Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Friday, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Zoellner joined the faculty of the art department of the University of Alabama in 1945 and recently retired as professor emeritus. He has taught at the Cincinnati Art Museum, Mary Washington College, the University of Mississippi, and the University of Florida.

His works are in the permanent collections of numerous museums, including the Museum of Modern Art, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and in the Library of Congress.

The exhibition will continue through March 8, 1985.

SHELTON TO OFFER DEATH OF SALESMAN TO SCHOOLS

The English Department of Shelton State Community College is offering a special program to the high schools in the area, one which gives area schools the opportunity to study and enjoy Tuscaloosa Community Players' production of DEATH OF A SALESMAN, scheduled for April 11-14 at the Bama Theatre.

Some of the activities which will be offered by the English teachers include: group rates for tickets; audiovisuals; synopsis of the play; study guide; composition exercises and questions; presentations by Shelton State instructors; dramatic readings from the play; bibliography; observation of rehearsal.

Serving on the committee are Sharon Deck, Gloria Kuykendall, Brenda Ryan, Linda Mason, and Carole Johnson. Any one interested in learning more about the program should contact a member of the committee.

DAY RECEIVES AWARD

Sandra Day, faculty secretary for the Junior College Division, has been selected as an outstanding young woman of America for 1984 in recognition of outstanding ability, accomplishments, and service to the community. She received a certificate and letter of congratulations from the Board of Advisors chairperson, Margaret Long Arnold.

STORYTELLING WORKSHOP

Shelton State will offer a storytelling workshop on Monday, March 25, from 9:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. at the Junior College Division. Kathryn Tucker Windham, celebrated Alabama author and storyteller, will lead the workshop.

This workshop is designed to help individuals record stories and memories in correct form.

The class is free but registration is required as the class is limited. To register for the workshop or to obtain more information, contact Lucy Kubiszyn or Paula Sue Hayes at the Junior College Division.

FOLK FESTIVAL TIME

The fourth annual Shelton State Folk Festival will be held on Tuesday, March 26, at the Junior College Division of Shelton State Community College.

Exhibits of arts and crafts from the area will be displayed from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. A luncheon for all faculty, staff, and exhibitors will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the music room.

11 a.m.: Roundtable Discussion, Arthur Howington, Ph.D. discussion leader. Dean Howington will moderate an informal discussion among longtime Tuscaloosa residents recalling their experiences from years past.

2 p.m.: E. Hank Willett, III Regional Representative, National Endowment for the Arts.
"Traditional Pottery Making in Alabama."

Mr. Willett is well known to Alabamians for his involvement in the arts and humanities. As assistant to the director, Alabama State Council on the Arts and Humanities, he directed all program services in these areas. He has been especially active in the area of folk arts for the state. As Folk Arts Coordinator for the ASCAH from 1977-1981, he developed programs, wrote grant proposals, and directed projects which celebrated or documented the folk arts of the state.

EXHIBITORS NEEDED....Any faculty member or student who is interested in exhibiting some of their keepsakes, crafts, art works, etc. should contact a member of the Folk Festival Committee or Lucy Kubiszyn.
